SetCue creative brief

Your music. Your vibes. Let's go.

What SetCue is

SetCue is a desktop DJ app for the music already on your computer: your MP3s, Bandcamp purchases, CD rips and downloaded Suno songs. No streaming account, no subscription, no DJ gear needed.

- Two decks and Auto DJ: SetCue fades from one song into the next on a timer you set, or you mix by hand with the crossfader. Tempo walks glide each deck to any BPM.
- A visualizer for a second screen: 20+ animated scenes (neon cities, hyperspace, wireframe canyons) in color palettes you choose. Pop it out to a TV or projector.
- Lyrics on screen: timed lyrics and song titles over the visuals, karaoke style.
- Music videos: mix MP4, WebM and MOV videos; the crossfader blends the pictures too. (Windows)
- DJ lights: drive real DMX party lights through a USB cable; they change color and move with the beat. (Windows)
- MIDI controllers and scratching: plug in a DJ controller, or scratch the on-screen record with the mouse. (Windows)
- Record your mix to a WAV file.

Works on Windows 10/11, macOS 13+ and Linux. Features marked (Windows) are in the Windows version now and coming soon to Mac and Linux.

Price model: free 14-day demo with every feature, then a one-time licence from getsetcue.com (no subscription).

Who we're talking to

- People who host: house parties, game nights, birthdays, small bars and events.
- Bedroom DJs and music lovers who want to mix without buying a controller.
- AI-music makers (Suno and similar) who have folders of their own songs and want to play them out.
- Streamers and desk-setup fans who love a glowing second screen.

The one thing to get across

Turn the music on your computer into a DJ set with a light show, in minutes.

Video ideas

Pick one, or make it your own.

1. “POV: you’re the DJ at your own party.” Drop songs in, hit play, Auto DJ fades the next track in, and the TV lights up with visuals. Cut to friends reacting.
2. Desk-setup reveal. Lights off, hit play, and the second screen, DMX lights and RGB gear come alive on the beat.
3. “I made this song with AI, now watch it play.” Show your Suno song with its lyrics scrolling over the visualizer.
4. Before / after. A plain music player and a silent room → SetCue with visuals, lyrics and lights.
5. 60-second tutorial. Make a set, pick a theme and pattern, press play. Show how fast it is.
6. Scratch or controller moment. Scratch the record with the mouse or a DJ controller, then let a big transition land.
7. Visualizer tour. Flip through patterns and palettes to one song: “which one is your vibe?”

Must show

- The SetCue app on screen, clearly readable, for at least a few seconds.
- Music playing and the visuals reacting to it.
- At least one transition: Auto DJ fading from one song into the next.
- Say or caption: “free 14-day demo at getsetcue.com”, or your Trybe link if you have one.

Music: please read

Only use music you have the rights to. Platforms mute, block or demonetise videos with other people’s songs, and we can’t use them in ads.

Safe choices:

- The SetCue demo music pack (6 original tracks with cover art and lyrics, free on the download page). You’re cleared to use these in your SetCue videos.
- Your own songs, including AI songs from a paid plan that gives you commercial rights.
- Royalty-free music you’ve licensed.

Style and specs

- Format: vertical 9:16, 1080×1920. 15–45 seconds works best.
- Hook in the first 2 seconds: start on the visuals or the drop, not on a menu.
- Show the real screen: record it with a screen recorder (OBS or the Windows Game Bar, Win + G) and cut that in with phone footage of the room or setup. Bright visuals filmed in a dim room look great.
- Captions on: many people watch muted.
- Be yourself: honest reactions beat a script.

Do

- Mention the free 14-day demo, so it’s an easy try.
- Point out that it plays music you already own; no streaming or subscription.
- Keep the app version current: download the latest from getsetcue.com.

Don’t

- Don’t use copyrighted songs you don’t have rights to (see Music).
- Don’t say SetCue works with Spotify, Apple Music or YouTube; it plays local files.
- Don’t promise features the app doesn’t have, or show Windows-only features in a Mac or Linux video.
- Don’t show other brands’ logos prominently, or lyrics that name other brands.
- Don’t use DMX lights or lasers in a way that could hurt anyone. Never aim lasers at people.
